Corporate Memberships
How can your organization benefit from a membership at Reinstein Woods?

Join our family of 250+ members! By becoming a Friends member, your organization is helping to ignite the curiosity and passion of the next generation to explore our natural environment through hands-on experiences, provide opportunities for teachers to partake in professional development, and supports stewardship projects designed to protect and restore the natural habitats at Reinstein Woods. Additionally, happy and healthy employees lead to a boost in productivity, reduced health costs, and improved workplace morale.

Cost
Small Business/Non-profit: $700 (includes up to 10 memberships). This is a one-year membership.

Corporate: $1,750 (includes up to 25 memberships). This is a one-year membership.

Organizational members receive all the same benefits as individual, family, and grandparent, patron, sustainer and cornerstone members, PLUS:

- Recognition in at least one issue of the Friends of Reinstein Woods' quarterly newsletter, The Lily Pad
- Name and logo displayed on Friends of Reinstein Woods Website (reinsteinwoods.org) for duration of membership
- Small business: One guided group hike at Reinstein Woods Nature Preserve for your organization (up to 20 people)
- Corporate: Two guided group hikes at Reinstein Woods Nature Preserve (up to 20 people each)
- Opportunities for your employees to engage in stewardship of Reinstein Woods, such as habitat improvement projects, volunteer hours at events etc.

Donations & Stewardship

We are grateful for monetary and in-kind gifts. A contribution to Reinstein Woods helps not only the preserve, but the community. A contribution helps send a child to nature camp, provide bird seed for Project Feeder watch, and supplies tools for Trail Thursdays.

How can your organization get your hands dirty?

While we are working to prepare the next generation to take on the responsibility of taking care of our environment, the property itself also needs management.

Your organization can volunteer as a group to fulfill volunteer hours while giving back to your community.
